Miracles is one of the books representing the “new science.” It shows that, in many ways, our image of the world is based on outdated ideas that have already been proven wrong. It’s just that the new findings haven’t reached the collective awareness yet.

Dr. Lipton has some very interesting things to say in his book, The Biology of Belief. For me, the meat of what is in it is in his expose' and criticisms of Newtonian physics, neo-Darwinism, and the corrupt and duplicitous practices of the medical-pharmaceutical complex.

genetic code. The discovery of DNA has led scientists to consider that an individual is permanently programmed by his or her genetic code. On the contrary, epigenetics, a branch of biology that studies the mechanisms modifying the activity of genes, shows that a human being is capable of intervening on his own biology. Your environment, more than your genes, influences your metabolism. Thus, early childhood experiences, traumas, but also the mental mechanisms that you have been taught act on your health. You then have the power to free yourself from your genetic recoveries from illness, but can the same thing happen for our world? According to pioneering biologist Bruce possible, it's already occurring. In Spontaneous Evolution, this world-

biology will help us navigate this turbulent period in our planet's history and how each of us can participate in this global shift. In collaboration with political philosopher Steve Bhaerman, Dr. Lipton invites readers to reconsider: the 'unquestionable' pillars of biology, including random evolution, survival of the fittest, and the role of DNA; the relationship between mind and matter; how our beliefs about nature and human nature shape our politics, culture, and individual lives; and how each of us can become planetary 'stem cells' supporting the health and growth of our world. By questioning the old beliefs that got us to where we are today and keep us stuck in the status quo, we can trigger the spontaneous evolution of our species that will usher in a brighter future.

A biologist and political philosopher argue that our world is currently undergoing a miraculous recovery and explain how each person can become a catalyst for change by supporting the health and growth of our planet. Original.

It has been ten years since the publication of The Biology of Belief, Bruce Lipton's seminal book on the relationship between mind and body that changed the way we think about our lives, our health, and our planet. During that time, research in this field has grown exponentially - Lipton's groundbreaking experiments have now been endorsed by more than a decade of rigorous scientific study. In this greatly expanded edition, Lipton, a former medical school professor and research scientist, explores his own experiments and those of other leading-edge

Instead, they are controlled by signals from outside the cell, including energetic messages emanating from our thoughts. This profoundly hopeful synthesis of the latest and best research in cell biology and quantum physics puts the power to create a healthy, joyous life back in our own hands. When we transform our conscious and subconscious thoughts, we transform our lives, and in the process
